MISSING ITALIAN AVIATOR FOUND BY CRUISER

LOCATED 125
MILES EAST OF
CAPE FAREWELL

MOTOR TROUBLE, SAID LOCATELLI, FORCED THEM DOWN

NOT WISHING TO IMPOSE FURTHER ON AMERICANS, ORDERS PLANE DESTROYED

(By United Press)
On Board the U. S. S. Richmond, Aug. 24 (Delayed).—Lieut. Locatelli, missing Italian aviator, and his three flying companions, were rescued by the Richmond at 11:35 o'clock tonight. The American cruiser came upon the airmen 125 miles east of Cape Farewell, Greenland, and all were fatigued from their harrowing experiences in the icy seas.

"Motor trouble forced us down," Locatelli explained. "We made desperate efforts to make the plane ride, but it would not do so. We have travelled, I figure, at least 100 miles."

Because he did not wish to impose any further trouble upon the American vessels, Locatelli ordered his great machine destroyed.

AMERICANS NOW ONE HOP FROM CONTINENT

Halfway, N. S., Aug. 25.—The American around-the-world airmen are just one hop from the North American continent today as they paused to change motors at Ivigtut, Greenland. The next flight will take them to Indian Harbor, Labrador.

At Pictou the two airmen will be joined by Lieut. Leigh Wade, third member of the globe circling party. A new plane will be given to him at Pictou and he will finish the flight with his two comrades of the air.

DARROW

CLAIMS THEY ARE TWO IMPERFECT MACHINES, LACKING EMOTIONS

(By United Press)
Criminal Courtroom, Chicago, Aug. 25.—Two children, wandering about in a nightmare, the sport of blind forces—this was the picture conjured up today by Clarence Darrow, chief defense attorney, in his plea for lives of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb.

They are just two imperfect machines, lacking the emotions to balance their superior intellects, committing various crimes, with the murder of Bobby Franks as the climax, because nature failed to build perfectly, Darrow told Chief Justice John R. Caverly, in his final arguments to save the boys from the gallows.

"No one can conclude, after a study of this case, any fact except that it was diseased intellect that was responsible for these terrible acts," Darrow began. "When we survey the case we speculate on how it came about." Darrow said. "Let's take Dickie Loeb first. I don't know how it came about, but some combination is responsible for the mad act. A child is born without knowledge. Impressions are made as it goes along."

Loeb, Darrow said, was given too much opportunity by wealth. Darrow laid much stress on the influence of Dickie's governess, who was with him all of the time. The governess, Darrow said, drove him to read books beyond his years. In order to escape this restraint Loeb was forced to practice subterfuge. In secret he read detective stories. Day after day he kept this up. This diet of crime stories made a profound impression on his life.

"Early in his life Loeb conceived the idea that there could be a perfect crime," Darrow said. "He believed in his childhood that a crime could be so perfect that there could be no detection. It could involve kidnapping and murder."

"In order to make the perfect crime ransom entered into it," Darrow said. "But ransom was not the major motive. The desire to be thrilled by a new adventure constituted the real motive."

"Childhood is filled with delusions," Darrow declared. "Your honor or has had childish delusions, and so have I. But your honor knows that the form these delusions take depend upon the conditions surrounding them."

With tears in his eyes, his lips trembling, Darrow said: "Before I would hang a rope around the necks of these boys, I would try to remember the days of my childhood."

"Nature is strong and pitiless. Nature dictates the part we play. Dickie had nothing to do with the choosing of his father, mother, or grandfather. His mind was handed out to him. He did not make himself. Why should he be made to pay?"

SCHEDULED HEARING ON REDUCTION OR ABOLITION OF FARE SURCHARGE

I. C. C. REPORTS COMPANY'S FARES MILLIONS LESS THAN EXPERT TESTIFIED

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 25.—The scheduled all-day hearing into the question of reduction or abolition of the surcharge on Pullman fares on all railroads in the United States, which opened here at 10 a. m. today, came temporarily to an abrupt halt little more than an hour later.

This halt was occasioned when the Interstate Commerce Commission tossed a statistical bombshell when Alexander F. Brevittier, representing the Chicago office of the I. C. C. bureau of accounts produced several ledger sheets filled with figures purporting to show that the Pullman Company's fares were several millions of dollars less in 1922 and 1923 than the company's expert testified to.

The hearings are a continuation of the Pullman fare hearings which resulted three months ago in a recommendation to the Interstate Commerce Commission by its examiners that the 50 per cent Pullman fare surcharge be discontinued. This surcharge is payable entirely to the railroad companies. It totals, according to the testimony introduced in previous sessions of the hearing, approximately $50,000,000 yearly. It is payable by passengers.

The next session here will convene at 9 a. m. tomorrow and until that time none of the interested parties would venture to predict as to what effect this morning's testimony of the I. C. C. would have on the final outcome.

On Board the Berengaria, Aug. 25.—So far the Prince of Wales has fended off ambitious debs and mammas who rushed on board the ship when she sailed. So far he has missed his dancing with girls aboard the vessel and contented himself with long strolls about the upper deck. Usually he is accompanied by General Trotter and Capt. Sunday the prince attended church, but did so as inconspicuously as possible. He sat hidden behind the choir throughout the services. He seemed anxious to keep from the eyes of his traveling companions as much as possible, while the choir, made up of bellboys and stewardesses, sang special numbers in his honor.

There is to be no letup in the prince's athletic life. He has arranged for keeping up his daily exercises. These will be in addition to the long strolls about the deck. The prince has been content with a plain lounge suit so far and even wore it Saturday night when he gave several American girls disappointment by coming into the ballroom and then leaving without dancing.

SECRETARY OF NAVY WILBUR FARRIES ATTACK OF LA FOLLETTE

SPOKE TO A LARGE AUDIENCE IN OPEN FORUM OF ST. PAUL ASSOCIATION

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 25.—Vigorously defending the Constitution of the United States from the attack made by Senator LaFollette in his supreme court plank, Curtis D. Wilbur, secretary of the navy, spoke here today before a large audience in an open forum meeting of the St. Paul Association.

The secretary stated that there are important fallacies in the planks of the LaFollette platform, which proposed that Congress can make a law declared unconstitutional by the supreme court valid by reenactment. "The plea made is that this is a government of the people, by the people and for the people, and that the people should have the right to establish the law," explained the navy secretary.

"The fundamental fallacy in this assertion is that congress is not the people of the United States of America and that the basis of our government and its foundation is that there are certain human rights that are inalienable and no majority can take them away, no matter how great."

DENIES IDENTITY, ALSO REFUSES TO RECOGNIZE MOTHER AND SISTER

NATIONWIDE SEARCH FOR HIM SINCE DISAPPEARANCE AFTER BIG SHORTAGE

(By United Press)
St. Peter, Minn., Aug. 25.—Apparently suffering from amnesia, F. A. Ludwig, cashier of the First National Bank of Minnesota Lake, missing since August 6, was arrested Saturday night about ten miles south of here.

A nationwide search for him has been under way since his disappearance after a shortage of between $40,000 and $50,000 was said to have been discovered in his accounts by bank examiners.

When questioned by police yesterday he claimed to know nothing of his actions previous to the time he disappeared. Mrs. Ludwig, his wife and a sister apparently were not recognized by Ludwig. He said he did not recall that he had even seen either of them.

Ludwig had been living for the past week on the old Hector farm in Belgrade township. Last Monday he came to the farm home of Walter Fran and asked for a quart of gasoline. When questioned by Fran he admitted he had no automobile and said he wanted the gasoline for cooking. Fran thought this strange, but did nothing further.

When Fran returned Tuesday he found his home had been entered through a basement window and some foodstuffs taken. Nothing else had been touched. He suspected Ludwig of the act but did nothing further, except to keep a close watch of his actions. Saturday Fran notified the sheriff of Nicollet county.

Upon the arrival of Sheriff Norman, Ludwig was questioned but Ludwig did not seem to know who he was. The sheriff then decided to take him to Mankato for questioning.

Half way between Mankato and St. Peter Ludwig reached into his left stocking and the sheriff fearing he might be attempting to commit suicide, grabbed his hand but found only an Elks membership card bearing the name of "F. A. Ludwig." When confronted with this and asked if he was the missing bank official Ludwig denied having even been connected with a bank.

Sheriff Norman then drove to Blue Earth and turned Ludwig over to Faribault county officials, where a warrant is held for his arrest on a charge of grand larceny.

FELIX C. ROBERTSON ADMITS SUCCESS OF MRS. MIRIAM FERGUSON

(By United Press)
Dallas, Tex., Aug. 25.—Felix C. Robertson, Klan candidate of Dallas, has conceded defeat by Mrs. Miriam Ferguson of Temple, for the democratic gubernatorial nomination on partial returns from Saturday's runoff primary.

Mrs. Ferguson had a lead of nearly 80,000 votes over the Klan candidate, according to a tabulation made by the Texas election bureau from 123 counties, 67 complete, out of 252, Sunday night.

The vote was Ferguson, 403,060; Robertson, 323,207. The election bureau also predicted a total vote of 850,000 when all returns are in. Available returns have already surpassed the state's record ballot of approximately 750,000 cast in the initial primary July 26.

Judge Robertson sent Mrs. Ferguson a message of congratulation on her nomination yesterday and issued a statement in which he said: "I abide by the dictates of the people."

SPOUSE AGREES TO LEAD MODEL LIFE WITH WIFE AS BOSS

St. Paul, Aug. 25.—William Nelson, 34, North St. Paul, today agreed to live up to a set of rules drawn up by his wife to make him a model husband.

Nelson has promised not to drink or swear, to turn over all his earnings to his wife and to join a church. All his associates, according to the set of rules, must be the sort that will help him to lead a Christian life.

His wife withdrew a divorce complaint filed Aug. 3, when Nelson made his promises.

VIGOROUSLY DEFENDING CONSTITUTION

SECRETARY OF NAVY WILBUR PARRIES ATTACK OF LA FOLLETTE

SPOKE TO A LARGE AUDIENCE IN OPEN FORUM OF ST. PAUL ASSOCIATION

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 25.—Vigorously defending the Constitution of the United States from the attack made by Senator LaFollette in his supreme court plank, Curtis D. Wilbur, secretary of the navy, spoke here today before a large audience in an open forum meeting of the St. Paul Association.

The secretary stated that there are important fallacies in the planks of the LaFollette platform, which proposed that Congress can make a law declared unconstitutional by the supreme court valid by reenactment. "The plea made is that this is a government of the people, by the people and for the people, and that the people should have the right to establish the law," explained the navy secretary.

"The fundamental fallacy in this assertion is that congress is not the people of the United States of America and that the basis of our government and its foundation is that there are certain human rights that are inalienable and no majority can take them away, no matter how great."

Rounds, state president. Songs of Minnesota and the West are to be used at the convention in assembly singing.

In this speech, it was said by Republican managers Sunday, the gubernatorial candidate, will lay down the issues on which the campaign will be fought until the final election, Nov. 4.—Duluth News Tribune.

MANY VACCINATIONS MADE FOR SMALLPOX

Physicians report that many people are being vaccinated here as a preventative for smallpox, and it is advisable to do so. A fresh supply of vaccine was received last Thursday. Although there is no occasion to get alarmed about the smallpox cases in our neighboring county of Morrison, the type of the disease is so virulent that everybody should be careful. In Benton county hundreds of people have been vaccinated, a large number taking the treatment yesterday at Oak Park.—Milaca Tribune.

APPEARS TO BE SUFFERING FROM AMNESIA

DENIES IDENTITY, ALSO REFUSES TO RECOGNIZE MOTHER AND SISTER

NATIONWIDE SEARCH FOR HIM SINCE DISAPPEARANCE AFTER BIG SHORTAGE

(By United Press)
St. Peter, Minn., Aug. 25.—Apparently suffering from amnesia, F. A. Ludwig, cashier of the First National Bank of Minnesota Lake, missing since August 6, was arrested Saturday night about ten miles south of here.

A nationwide search for him has been under way since his disappearance after a shortage of between $40,000 and $50,000 was said to have been discovered in his accounts by bank examiners.

When questioned by police yesterday he claimed to know nothing of his actions previous to the time he disappeared. Mrs. Ludwig, his wife and a sister apparently were not recognized by Ludwig. He said he did not recall that he had even seen either of them.

Ludwig had been living for the past week on the old Hector farm in Belgrade township. Last Monday he came to the farm home of Walter Fran and asked for a quart of gasoline. When questioned by Fran he admitted he had no automobile and said he wanted the gasoline for cooking. Fran thought this strange, but did nothing further.

When Fran returned Tuesday he found his home had been entered through a basement window and some foodstuffs taken. Nothing else had been touched. He suspected Ludwig of the act but did nothing further, except to keep a close watch of his actions. Saturday Fran notified the sheriff of Nicollet county.

Upon the arrival of Sheriff Norman, Ludwig was questioned but Ludwig did not seem to know who he was. The sheriff then decided to take him to Mankato for questioning. Half way between Mankato and St. Peter Ludwig reached into his left stocking and the sheriff fearing he might be attempting to commit suicide, grabbed his hand but found only an Elks membership card bearing the name of "F. A. Ludwig." When confronted with this and asked if he was the missing bank official Ludwig denied having even been connected with a bank.

Sheriff Norman then drove to Blue Earth and turned Ludwig over to Faribault county officials, where a warrant is held for his arrest on a charge of grand larceny.

Los Angeles, Aug. 25.—Kid McCoy, accused as the slayer of Mrs. Theresa Mors, his ninth love, today escaped for a few days the necessity of pleading to the charge against him. AGRICULTURAL COMPETITIONS ARE BEST IN 20 YEARS

St. Paul, Aug. 25.—Frank W. Matson, Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner who has just returned from an inspection tour of railroad crossings and depots in the northwestern part of the state, reports that agricultural conditions are the best in twenty years.

Farmers are jubilant over the prospects of a heavy year of small grains, and report that this grain is in the very best condition. Very little rust of any nature has been reported, and if weather conditions continue as favorably, late wheat will also yield the farmer a good return.

Wheat has been harvested in due time, allowing the seed to mature nicely, which indicates an extremely heavy year. Corn is the only crop farmers looked for a decrease in production, but the extreme heat wave, which was general over the state has caused conditions to change for the better.

INDIAN AFFAIRS HEARINGS OPEN AT BEMIDJI TODAY

St. Paul, Aug. 25.—Two United States senators and the commissioner of Indian affairs will try this week to unravel the tangled affairs of the Chippewa Indians in northern Minnesota.

Starting tomorrow at Bemidji, Senators John W. Harrell of Oklahoma, Republican, chairman of the senate committee on Indian affairs; John Kendrick of Wyoming, Democrat, member of that committee, and Charles H. Burke, commissioner, will open hearings. They will listen to the spokesmen of the various factions of the Chippewas.

There is much at stake in the settlement of the Chippewa troubles. Property of great value is involved and there is a tribal fund of $50,000,000 which enters into the situation.—Duluth News Tribune.

The Test

The loftiest test of friendship—understood as companionship—is the power to do without it. And in this world of external confusions and separations, there is often such need. We do not yield the friendship, but must forego the companionship. Then comes the proof of our capacity for sacrifice, our loyalty, to the highest of all. We turn our faces from each other, but never our hearts, and walk our opposite ways. Gradually the heavens widen and deepen above us; we find ourselves breathing new, yet strangely familiar atmospheres, sweet with the breath of the old affection; we see ourselves—each sees the other—met once more in a Presence which has never forsaken us.—Lucy Larcom.

Little Known About Atom

No one has ever seen an atom although scientific records of today are filled with research information, all of which has been gleaned from studying the performances of groups of atoms. No microscope has ever been invented powerful enough to make an atom or even a large molecule, which is a group of associated atoms, visible, and there is little hope in this direction because the modern microscope, according to those who should know, is about as near perfect as it may be expected to become.

There is much at stake in the settlement of the Chippewa troubles. Property of great value is involved and there is a tribal fund of $50,000,000 which enters into the situation.—Duluth News Tribune.

The Test

The loftiest test of friendship—understood as companionship—is the power to do without it. And in this world of external confusions and separations, there is often such need. We do not yield the friendship, but must forego the companionship. Then comes the proof of our capacity for sacrifice, our loyalty, to the highest of all. We turn our faces from each other, but never our hearts, and walk our opposite ways. Gradually the heavens widen and deepen above us; we find ourselves breathing new, yet strangely familiar atmospheres, sweet with the breath of the old affection; we see ourselves—each sees the other—met once more in a Presence which has never forsaken us.—Lucy Larcom.

Little Known About Atom

No one has ever seen an atom although scientific records of today are filled with research information, all of which has been gleaned from studying the performances of groups of atoms. No microscope has ever been invented powerful enough to make an atom or even a large molecule, which is a group of associated atoms, visible, and there is little hope in this direction because the modern microscope, according to those who should know, is about as near perfect as it may be expected to become.

"COTTON BLOSSOM" SINGERS IN CITY

Will Give Concert at Methodist Church on Wednesday Evening, August 27

ARE COLORED YOUNG PEOPLE

Students From Piney Woods Country Life School, Braxton, Mississippi

On Wednesday evening, August 27th, a group of students from the Piney Woods Country Life School, Braxton, Mississippi, will give a concert at the Methodist church, using the name of "The Cotton Blossom Singers."

The singers are colored young people, and are accompanied by Lawrence C. Jones, founder and principal of the Pine Woods school. He is a graduate of the Marshalltown, Iowa high school, and the state university of Iowa, class of 1907.

Two years later Mr. Jones started his school under an old cedar tree. At present there are three hundred and fifty students, fifteen teachers and a half dozen buildings. Twelve grades are taught at the school the year round.

The singers are traveling in a house car, called the "Musseryde," named from the two men who gave it to the singers, C. R. Musser, of Muscatine, Iowa, and A. A. Hyde, president of the Mentholatum Company, of Wichita, Kansas. The car is very nicely equipped for living, sleeping and eating, taking care of seven people.

These singers have been touring the Northwest, and are now starting on the homeward trip. On Sunday evening they sang in Atkin. Their schedule calls for Grand Rapids on Monday evening, Crosby on Tuesday evening, Brainerd Wednesday evening, and Little Falls on Thursday evening.

Their program consists of old negro spirituals and plantation melodies, under the leadership and direction of Mrs. L. C. Jones. No charge is made for the concert, but an offering is taken toward the expense of the trip and to help the school.

A number of people in Brainerd have had a personal interest in the work Mr. Jones is accomplishing in his school, as have many citizens wherever the school is known.

New and Artistic Sweaters in Mode

Winsome Models Have Both Practical and Picturesque Value.

Sweaters have become so important a part of a woman's dress that some of the best designers are giving their attention to the creation of new and artistic models. The utility garment, having no claim whatsoever to "looks," has long been in the market, but the comfort and the ease of it and the steadily increasing popularity of sports dress spurred the modistes to develop the possibilities of the sweater in both beauty and style. The result, notes a fashion authority in the New York Times, has been a great variety of models having both practical and picturesque value, and in consequence a broadening of the field in the designing of all forms of the sweater and in its use.

The types of sweater now in vogue are bewildering as to material, form and color. For service at the seashore or the mountains, for cross-country hikes, motoring, yachting and innumerable other purposes there are sweaters of lightweight wool, knitted or woven, or cut from cloth. These employ the most vivid decorative colors, and some of them are swaggers in the extreme, effacing the memory of the first models, seasons past, which were dreary, monotonous things, usually of gray or brown or flannel red. The combining of silk with wool of thistle-down weight in the knitted sweaters is done with success, making them both useful and ornamental, for the wool provides the necessary warmth, and the thread of floss gives a lovely sheen to the surface. A sweater of this sort has the advantage of being more dressy in appearance than one of all wool, and may be worn on more occasions.

Fibre silk has created for the greater number of women a sweater that belongs in the category of silk and looks like silk, and yet may be had for a much lower price than the silk article. The colors in these are of wide range, gay, delicate, dark and black. In this type, as in all of the others, the white sweater is most becoming, and is most suitable for wear with the smart sports skirts of white flannel, ratine, eponge, silk or jersey.

The last word in style and beauty is a sweater of crocheted hand-made heavy silk floss. This type was first shown in the tuxedo shape with revers and belt, quite long and coat-like. But gradually this model has been changed, and the one-piece slip-on is the newest and most fashionable. It is popular with the woman of slender figure and straight silhouette.

Curiously enough, while the sweater has become so thoroughly Americanized that we think of it as peculiarly our own, the handsomest of these choicest silk sweaters came to us from England and Ireland. Some, done in fancy stitches with heavy twisted floss of ivory white, are exceedingly beautiful, and are genuine luxuries, being uncommon and costly.

Scalloped Lamp Shade Different From Others

Here is a lamp shade that, simple and elegant, is different from the general run of lamp shades. Cover the frame in the usual manner. Make a four-inch ruffle of plaited silk the color of the lining of the shade. Four inches is a good width for a shade about twelve inches deep. If yours is less make the ruffles less in proportion; if deeper, make it wider. Sew it to the lamp. Over it sew a 4-inch ruffle of the top silk. This ruffle can be made double or a single one can be used if the lower edge is picoté. Gather this ruffle slightly before sewing it on. Mark off every four inches. At each mark gather in the ruffle with vertical stitching. This will form the scalloped edge, which gives a petal effect to the shade. Finish the shade with two bands of gold braid trimmed with tiny silk rosebuds.

Fashion Picks Fabrics Regardless of History

No longer is there any hard and fast rule as to the use of materials. Fashion seizes upon anything that suits her fancy and with unbelievable adroitness adapts the fabric to her needs. On one hand she uses velvets and satins for bathing suits, while on the other chintzes and linens, formerly reserved for the sole purpose of being made into hangings and slipcovers, now fashion the most engaging costumes. Little short coats of chintz either quilted or embroidered in black silk are among the most successful models, while one of the most famous designers in Paris has created an evening frock of cretonne which has the design outlined in silver thread and crystal beads.

Game Birds

In a certain hotel on Broadway three men who, from their conversation, were evidently fond of sports, were, after exhausting golf, tennis, etc., with the first course, now debating as to which kind of game was the best. A large, impressive individual of the professional type stoutly declared that nothing could be compared to the pheasant, while his companion was vainly trying to impress upon his mind that partridge was the best. Then the other one, more enthusiastic than the rest, decisively announced that quail had no equal, and to prove his point asked the colored waiter to settle the argument.

"Well, suh," came the unexpected answer, "for mah part, I would rathah have an American eagle served on a silver dollar."—Western Christian Advocate (Cincinnati).

Big Metro Picture Sets a New Standard With Superb Cast and Story

"The most satisfying picture of the year," describes Metro's special production, "Revelation," which opened last night at the Lyceum Theatre. Story, cast and direction, are all three of extraordinary worth, so that the spectator comes away from the theatre feeling that he has seen something head and shoulders above the ordinary feature.

Motion picture fans have been saying all along that the crying need is better stories. They are answered in "Revelation," for the story, which was written by Mabel Wagnalls, is a classic of the screen, and is destined to stand out as one of the milestones in film history.

With such a story to work on, the chance was there to make a great picture, and George D. Baker, the director, never let an opportunity slip by. His good taste and tenderness in handling the subject is always manifest.

"Revelation" is showing again tonight and Tuesday.

TASTY TIDBITS

It is pleasant occasionally to surprise our family with some choice dish when no company is expected. Here are a few worth while:

Canana Soup.—Select six ripe bananas, rub them through a sieve, add a pinch of salt, the grated rind of a lemon and place on the heat. When the boiling point is reached add two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch mixed smooth in a little cold milk and stir while adding to the boiling mixture. Cook for eight minutes, stirring all the while. Remove from the heat, cool; add two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and serve well chilled in bouillon cups.

Parisian Peas.—Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, add a quart of green peas, mix well, then pour on enough boiling water to barely cover them. Add salt and pepper, the heart of a head of lettuce finely minced, one-half of an onion minced fine, a sprig of parsley also minced. Simmer until the peas are tender, then stir in the yolks of two well-beaten eggs. Reheat carefully, not to curdle the eggs.

Currant Pie.—Take one cupful of crushed ripe currants, one cupful of sugar, two egg yolks, a pinch of salt, two tablespoonfuls of flour and one tablespoonful of cold water. Mix all together and cook until smooth and thick. Cool and fill a baked shell. Cover with a meringue made from the two egg whites beaten stiff and three tablespoonfuls of sugar added. Dot with pieces of marshmallow and brown in the oven.

Fresh Fish Chowder.—Take a two-pound fish, clean, remove the bones and cut into small-sized pieces. Prepare one-half dozen potatoes, sliced, three onions, also sliced, cover with boiling water and cook all together with the fish. When all are tender season with a slice or two of fried salt pork cut into dice, add a quart of hot milk and as many milk crackers soaked in hot milk as there are people to serve. Season well and serve hot, in soup plates.

How to Launder Your Bright-Colored Frock

Those bright-colored frocks that are so fashionable can be washed with out fading if you take the precaution to set the colors before they are laundered. If you make the dresses your self this can be done before making them up.

If the material is green or lavender soak it at least fifteen minutes in vinegar and water, using about two gallons of cold water to which has been added half a cupful of strong vinegar.

Salt and water will set black and black and white, and is equally good for other colors. Use four table spoonfuls of salt to one gallon of water and soak the fabrics ten minutes. A little turpentine should be added to the salted water if the colors are blue or pink.

A mixture of oxalid and water is used by many housewives to set gray and brown, but soaking these colored fabrics in the vinegar and water solutions for ten minutes will effectually set the colors.

Some laundresses prefer alum, two ounces to a tub of water, to set green, pink, red or lavender.

If you set the colors as suggested and use reasonable care in washing such as washing in tepid water (hot water takes out color), rinsing in cold water and hanging the garment in the shade, your colored frocks will retain their original colors.

"If you get a slight wound or bruise, do not neglect it. Serious sickness may result, and occasionally septic poisoning may cause death. There are four simple things that one should do:

"First, apply half-strength tincture of iodine to the wound, or better, use glass ampoules. Never apply near the eyes, between the thighs or for wounds of the intestines. It is a mistake to wash the injury. Iodine is a destroyer of germs, and is very effective, as war surgeons proved.

"Second, apply a sterile piece of gauze, folded into a convenient pad. Third, wrap this dressing with a sterile gauze bandage. Fourth, fasten the bandage with adhesive plaster. It is simple to do, but it may save much suffering later."

Northern Pacific Train Employees Are Complimented

Minneapolis Traveler Says "North Coast Limited" Service Is Superb

The "North Coast Limited," one of America's fine trains, and the pacemaker of Northwest passenger service, has won tens of thousands of friends for the Northern Pacific during its 25 years of operation. Constantly improved, with the most modern refinements of railway transportation—perfected sleeping cars, "famously good" dining cars, luxurious observation cars having barbers, valets, baths, libraries, writing desks, card rooms, smoking rooms, buffets, restful chairs, sightseeing windows and platforms—the ten "North Coast Limited" trains of 1924 set the fashion for comfortable travel.

How well the "North Coast Limited" serves its passengers is shown by the following letter written by W. F. McMahon, of 329 Washington Ave. N., Minneapolis:

"Having just returned from the Pacific Coast trip, I wish to thank you for the many courtesies extended by your office in Seattle and your several employees in charge of your 'North Coast Limited' train leaving Seattle Wednesday, April 9th, at 9:30 A. M. Your Pullman and dining car service is superb, and leaves nothing to be desired."

The "North Coast Limited" is one of the fast trains of America. It runs from Chicago to Seattle in 70 hours! (58)

How to Launder Your Bright-Colored Frocks

Those bright-colored frocks that are so fashionable can be washed with out fading if you take the precaution to set the colors before they are laundered. If you make the dresses yourself this can be done before making them up.

If the material is green or lavender, soak it at least fifteen minutes in vinegar and water, using about two gallons of cold water to which has been added half a cupful of strong vinegar. Salt and water will set black and black and white, and is equally good for other colors. Use four tablespoonfuls of salt to one gallon of water and soak the fabrics ten minutes. A little turpentine should be added to the salted water if the colors are blue or pink.

A mixture of oxgall and water is used by many housewives to set gray and brown, but soaking these colored fabrics in the vinegar and water solutions for ten minutes will effectually set the colors.

Some laundresses prefer alum, two ounces to a tub of water, to set green, pink, red or lavender.

If you set the colors as suggested and use reasonable care in washing such as washing in tepid water, (hot water takes out color), rinsing in cold water and hanging the garment in the shade, your colored frocks will retain their original colors.

TOLEDO, AN OCEAN PORT

DIRECT navigation from Denmark to Toledo, Ohio, is possible and the Cleveland Plain Dealer describes a unique trip made by a Danish ship. It gives added weight to the arguments made for a Great Lakes-St. Lawrence shipway, which will make of Duluth-Superior an ocean port whose advantages will be felt by Brainerd and all other contiguous territory.

A little steel freighter poked its way from the blue Lake Erie into the muddy Maumee river the other day, tied and began discharging its 1,400 tons of pulpwood. Not a big vessel, or an imposing one, but as important in its way as the submarine Deutschland which brought its unique message to the new world. For the Julius Holmblad also brings a message.

The Holmblad brought from Copenhagen to Toledo a cargo of pulpwood for manufacture at Monroe, Mich., saving to the importer about $1 a ton over the usual rate based on delivery at Baltimore and shipment thence by rail. The freighter crossed the Atlantic, entered the lakes by way of the St. Lawrence river and delivered its burden direct to cars at a Maumee river wharf.

So important was the event considered to a city ambitious to become an important deep water port that the Toledo Chamber of Commerce gave a luncheon to the Holmblad's captain. The Chamber will seek to make the steel stranger from 5,000 miles away the forerunner of a Copenhagen-to-Toledo line delivering pulpwood and other commodities direct from the old world to the muddy Maumee. The Toledo Chamber of Commerce believes in the St. Lawrence waterway and in local port development.

The Dispatch has always maintained that establishment of the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway will result in immense development of the Duluth-Superior port. The Lake Superior division of the Northern Pacific railway company taps this port. Ocean business at the port would work a tremendous increase of freight hauling by our division of the Northern Pacific and double trackage of its whole length would be imperatively necessary.

Increasing freight service would result in more train crews, more work at our Brainerd shops, more prosperity all around. There is no end to the development possible, affecting Duluth-Superior and all the inland empire tributary to the port.

It would also do away with a lot of provincialism. Europe oftentimes thinks that New York is all America. A few voyages of discovery to our inland lake country, such as undertaken by the captain of the freighter Holmblad will do much to get Europe acquainted with the immensity of the United States and its varied demands.

"REHABILITATION" EXPLAINED

PEOPLE today make a frequent use of the term "rehabilitated" as applied to disabled ex-service men, and many do not understand what it means.

Disabled soldiers of our other wars were left to find their own way into some kind of work that they could do in spite of their war injuries, but it is not so with the disabled veterans of the World War. Within a few months after the war began, it was wisely determined not to allow the disabled men to find their own way, unguided, back into the industries, but to restore them to their former usefulness by means of a carefully supervised education, following the line of their natural abilities, their experience, and their physical disabilities, so as to overcome the handicap produced by their injuries. Thus re-trained, they would be able to "carry on" successfully in spite of their wounds and injuries.

Then, after the soldier has been re-trained for some vocation which he is able to follow, he is taken in charge of the Employment Service of the Veterans Bureau and a suitable position is found for him in a gainful occupation. When he is restored to a producing place in some line of industry he is considered fully rehabilitated and the obligation of the government faithfully discharged, except possibly in one respect.

To recompense him for his injuries, so far as money can be a recompense for physical loss, he is awarded compensation, payable monthly, which represents his actual loss in earning power, as compared with that of a normal man. Re-trained, placed in a good position, and granted compensation if his disability still exists at the end of his training period, he is considered "rehabilitated."

MOST WORTHY OF SUPPORT

LUM park will be a place of unusual interest on Tuesday night when the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League makes a display of the products of the Children's gardens which this club fostered. They are asking for the support of the entire city and they deserve it, for they are doing an unusual work.

Members of this organization have weekly visited these gardens and made reports on the progress they have made and urged the children to complete their work.

By their activities this club is greatly assisting to make good citizens; they encourage thrift, for vegetables are one of the things grown; they encourage beauty, for flowers have been grown. These young people are the future home makers and thrift and beauty are both essential to a successful home.

The club has been under expense to accomplish this work and they are charging a 10c admission to defray expenses. This will be band concert night, Tuesday, and it will furnish an excellent opportunity to see the display and this too is the last concert of the season.

MERGERS seem the order of the day. The latest planned is the combining of four great railway systems of which the Northern Pacific is to be an integral part, and in combination with the Erie, would make a coast to coast line.

DOWN in St. Paul bandits held up a cafe owner. If this had occurred in one of the tourist cafes of Paris, it would be an exhibition of supreme nerve.

Few Have, or Acquire, Good Thinking Habits

The average man works about eight hours a day, or is supposed to. The rest of the time is divided about equally, so the theory runs, between recreation and sleep.

Of the 16 waking hours how many are devoted to thinking? Psychologists tell us that a tenth is a liberal allowance, and, in actual practice, from that down. Only a little more than an hour and a half out of the twenty-four occupied in thinking!

Thinking is one of the most difficult and trying of occupations, says Collier's. Were this not so it is probable that we might spend more time at it. To prove this, try to concentrate your mind on the book you have just read; on the lecture you have recently listened to; on the important interview you have just had. Try to remember and recount to yourself, item by item, just as much as you can of the thing you read or listened to. It will tire you out. Unless you have trained yourself to the task your mind will wander—you will lose the thread.

Psychologists recommend the cultivation of thinking habits; they recommend less reading and more thinking about what you have read and heard and seen.

"As we do this well or ill," says John Stuart Mill, "so will we discharge well or ill the duties of our several callings."

Glass Flowers Close Imitation of Nature

Marvelous artificial blooms that resemble nature's finest specimens in every respect except scent, are now being made by expert glassblowers.

Every part of the flower or plant is faithfully reproduced, from the long, delicate stems and colored petals to the almost invisible pollen.

The first thing which the maker of these wonderful blooms does is to blow the petals from glass as thin and fragile as tissue paper. The glass petals are then shaped and colored exactly like the natural ones.

Some of the rarer plants cannot be easily reproduced, and often several experiments have to be carried out with different colors before a really good imitation is obtained.

These glass flowers are used extensively in museums, both to show details of plant or flower formation and as backgrounds for displaying specimens of birds and beasts.

Antiquity and Whiskers

Tradition says that Adam wore a full beard. That is quite a natural supposition since that was before the time of razor advertisements. Beautifully executed bas reliefs have left no doubt that the early Persian kings cultivated whiskers. In fact, for further adornment they plaited them with golden thread. The Winged Bulls of Assyria are but types of those kings. The Chinese are a shaven people; the Egyptians were the same. But the Mohammedans are bearded, and Saladin's son, Turkish historians tell us, wept for fear when he saw the shaven envoys of the Crusaders. The world is, and always has been, divided into shavers and bearded. The greatest benefactor of barbers in the world's history was Alexander. He, who shaved himself to preserve his youth, shaved his army to prevent the enemy seizing their beards.

Venetian Glass

Venice has long led the world in the manufacture of beautiful glassware. Glass works were early established in that city and the taking of Constantinople in 1204 gave the Venetians the opportunity of acquiring additional knowledge of the art. During the fourteenth century beads, false stones, and imitations of jewels, rather than cups and the like, seem to have been the chief productions of the Venice workman. Venetian glass is usually of extreme thinness, being nearly always blown, and there is an endless variety to be found in the shapes and in the application of color. Glass-blowing, like throwing clay on the potter's wheel, induces beautiful curved forms and strength of substance.

The Cob Dollar

The "cob dollar" was a Spanish dollar which at one time had wide circulation in the United States. In 1778, when the articles of confederation were adopted, the cob or Spanish dollar was used in practically all business transactions throughout the colonies. Owing to its convenience it was adopted with slight change as our standard dollar. The cob dollar originated on these cob dollars coined in Spain and her American colonies. The smaller Spanish coins representing fractions of the cob dollar were called "cob money."

What They Remark and What They Really Mean

Nearly all adverse criticism means, "I could have done it much better."

All praise of the gushing variety means, "I couldn't have done better myself."

"Please criticize this work for me," usually means, "Please give this the once-over and then praise me."

"Please don't observe too closely, for the house is in a frightful state" usually means, "Take a look and see if you can find any dust."

"I didn't have time to do my hair" usually means, "I think it arranged very becomingly and you are invited to share my opinion."

"I am not half good enough for you" means, "Please assure me that you consider it an honor to be courted by a man of my excellence."

"The common people are half-baked idiots" means, "The common people haven't sense enough to appreciate me."

"Hurrah for Brown" means "Brown's opinions are similar to mine, which is sufficient evidence that he is a good and wise man."

"I had few advantages as a boy" means, "Haven't I accomplished wonders for one so handicapped at the start?"

"I'll be glad to introduce you to any of these people" means, "Make a note of the fact that I am on intimate terms with all of these big guys."—Baltimore Sun.

Continue Search for "Lost" Arizona Mines

Of all the legends of buried treasure the most persistent is the one about lost gold mines of Arizona. Only the Indians are supposed to possess the secret of this baffling mystery, although the story has been circulated for more than a century.

That there once were mines in the region is indicated by references found in early Spanish diaries and by the tales passed down through several generations of natives who were compelled to dig the ore as slaves of their conquerors. The chief evidence in support of the tradition is the altar of the San Xavier mission, not far from Tucson. It is described as being "inlaid with virgin gold." Mission records show that the precious metal was brought from Canada del Oro where it was mined by Indians under the direction of Spanish priests.

But no trace now exists of the diggings, and the old trail over which the gold is said to have been carried by pack mules disappears abruptly in the sands.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Musk Oxen Muskless

The musk ox of North America is a true connecting link between wild cattle and sheep. It has horns like the wild Cape buffalo of Africa, cattle-like hoofs, and its flesh looks and tastes like beef.

It has next its body a dense coat of soft, clean woolly hair, and through this grows a rain coat of very long, straight brown hair like that of the Tibetan yak. It has a tail so short and small that the animal seems tailless.

The horns meet in a broad base over the top of the skull, drop far down then sharply curve upward for several inches, terminating in sharp points. They are specially adapted for puncturing the vitals of wolves and polar bears.

The musk ox lives and thrives even up to the farthest north for hoofed animals, says the Detroit News. Its supply of "musk" and its "musk" odor are both wholly imaginary.

Birds as Prophets

In early days superstitious people paid considerable attention to the birds and their different cries which were believed to foretell events. Thus comes the old saying, "A little bird told me." Traces of this belief are to be found in our own Old Testament, where verse 20 of chapter 10, of Ecclesiastes, speaks of "for a bird of the air shall carry the voice and that which hath wings shall tell the matter." It is generally agreed that it is from this belief in the universal knowledge of birds, which, of course, are supposed to see everything from the sky—that we get this saying.

Reason for Nicknames

During the contest between Charles I and his parliament it was fashionable among the church people to give Scripture names to their children, and sometimes the name would consist of a phrase, or even an entire verse. One child was actually named "Who Comforteth Us in All Our Tribulation, That We May Be Able to Comfort Them Which Are in Any Trouble With the Comfort Wherewith We Our-selves Are Comforted," Tielbourne. And what do you suppose the kids dubbed him when he started to school? "Tribs"—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Frog That Liked Eggs

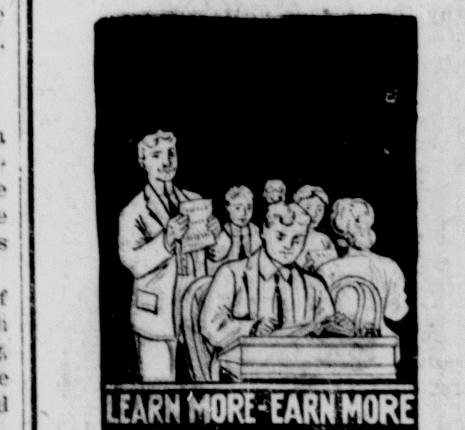

A little girl who studies birds made the discovery that a frog will eat a blackbird's eggs, the London Morning Post reports. She found a low-built nest with two eggs, one having a small hole at the big end. Next day she found a frog on the nest, its tongue flicking in and out of the hole. "Either the noise of the grass under my feet, or the gasp I let out," she relates in a kind of affidavit, "frightened the frog away." On the third day she found both the eggs with holes and empty. "I'm glad to introduce you to any of these people" means, "Make a note of the fact that I am on intimate terms with all of these big guys."—Baltimore Sun.

Bird Census Interesting

A little more than one pair of birds to the acre of farm land is the average shown by bird census over a period of seven years for the country east of the great plains and north of Maryland, the Department of Agriculture reports. The robin is the most abundant species, the English sparrow second. In the immediate vicinity of buildings, including lawns and orchards, about 130 pairs of birds are found to nest on 100 acres. For the entire farm the average is about 112 pairs to the 100 acres.

Both Right and Wrong

Men too frequently believe they deserve all the good that comes to them, and very little of the bad. They may be as wrong regarding the one as the other. As a rule they are right only when by honest introspection they have consciousness of deserving.—Grit.

"Hurrah for Brown" means "Brown's opinions are similar to mine, which is sufficient evidence that he is a good and wise man."

"I had few advantages as a boy" means, "Haven't I accomplished wonders for one so handicapped at the start?"

"I'll be glad to introduce you to any of these people" means, "Make a note of the fact that I am on intimate terms with all of these big guys."—Baltimore Sun.

Continue Search for "Lost" Arizona Mines

Of all the legends of buried treasure the most persistent is the one about lost gold mines of Arizona. Only the Indians are supposed to possess the secret of this baffling mystery, although the story has been circulated for more than a century.

That there once were mines in the region is indicated by references found in early Spanish diaries and by the tales passed down through several generations of natives who were compelled to dig the ore as slaves of their conquerors. The chief evidence in support of the tradition is the altar of the San Xavier mission, not far from Tucson. It is described as being "inlaid with virgin gold." Mission records show that the precious metal was brought from Canada del Oro where it was mined by Indians under the direction of Spanish priests.

But no trace now exists of the diggings, and the old trail over which the gold is said to have been carried by pack mules disappears abruptly in the sands.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Musk Oxen Muskless

The musk ox of North America is a true connecting link between wild cattle and sheep. It has horns like the wild Cape buffalo of Africa, cattle-like hoofs, and its flesh looks and tastes like beef.

It has next its body a dense coat of soft, clean woolly hair, and through this grows a rain coat of very long, straight brown hair like that of the Tibetan yak. It has a tail so short and small that the animal seems tailless.

The horns meet in a broad base over the top of the skull, drop far down then sharply curve upward for several inches, terminating in sharp points. They are specially designed for puncturing the vitals of wolves and polar bears.

The musk ox lives and thrives even up to the farthest north for hoofed animals, says the Detroit News. Its supply of "musk" and its "musk" odor are both wholly imaginary.

Birds as Prophets

In early days superstitious people paid considerable attention to the birds and their different cries, which were believed to foretell events. Thus comes the old saying, "A little bird told me." Traces of this belief are to be found in our own Old Testament, where verse 20, of chapter 10, of Ecclesiastes, speaks of "for a bird of the air shall carry the voice and that which hath wings shall tell the matter." It is generally agreed that it is from this belief in the universal knowledge of birds, which, of course, are supposed to see everything from the sky—that we get this saying.

Reason for Nicknames

During the contest between Charles I and his parliament it was fashionable among the church people to give Scripture names to their children, and sometimes the name would consist of a phrase, or even an entire verse. One child was actually named "Who Comforteth Us in All Our Tribulation, That Ave May Be Able to Comfort Them Which Are in Any Trouble With the Comfort Wherewith We Ourselves Are Comforted," Titchbourne. And what do you suppose the kids dubbed him when he started to school? "Trits"—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Frog That Liked Eggs

A little girl who studies birds made the discovery that a frog will eat a blackbird's eggs, the London Morning Post reports. She found a low-built nest with two eggs, one having a small hole at the big end. Next day she found a frog on the nest, its tongue flicking in and out of the hole. "Either the noise of the grass under my feet, or the rasp I let out," she relates in a kind of affidavit, "frightened the frog away." On the third day she found both the eggs with holes and empty. "I'm so sorry," she says, "but I am not usually reckoned among egg thieves."

Bird Census Interesting

A little more than one pair of birds to the acre of farm land is the average shown by bird census over a period of seven years for the country east of the great plains and north of Maryland, the Department of Agriculture reports. The robin is the most abundant species, the English sparrow second. In the immediate vicinity of buildings, including lawns and orchards, about 130 pairs of birds are found to nest on 100 acres. For the entire farm the average is about 112 pairs to the 100 acres.

Both Right and Wrong

Men too frequently believe they deserve all the good that comes to them, and very little of the bad. They may be as wrong regarding the one as the other. As a rule they are right only when by honest introspection they have consciousness of deserving.—Grit.

HORSESHOE TOURNAMENTS AT COUNTY FAIR

FEATURE NOT ORIGINALLY A PART OF FAIR PROGRAM,
RECENTLY ADDED

ANOTHER FEATURE IS BASEBALL
GAME BETWEEN BRAIN-
ERD ELKS AND PEQUOT

There will be several horseshoe tournaments at the Crow Wing county fair, to be held in Pequot on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

This feature was not originally a part of the fair program, but there has been so much demand for the game, and it was so successfully staged last season, that the directors decided at the eleventh hour to add it to the list of attractions.

Another feature of the fair is a baseball game between the Pequot nine and the Brainerd Elks team, which will probably be played on Thursday, Brainerd day. A purse of fifty dollars goes to the winner.

It is expected that the livestock exhibit at the fair this year will be the largest and best that has ever been shown in Crow Wing county. Dairy sires given to the farmers last spring through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, are to compete for honors, in addition to the many animals that will be shown by individuals. The Echo Stock Farm, has asked to have stalls reserved for sixteen animals.

An exceptional interest is being taken this year in the agricultural exhibits, which are placed on a new basis this season. Farmers may arrange an attractive exhibit of any or all of their products and a prize of $25 will go to the farmer having the best exhibit.

Grains and grasses promise to be a good crop this year, and some very fine exhibits are being prepared for the fair. Alfalfa, a crop which is becoming very popular in the county, will be given a prominent place and will demonstrate clearly what can be done in growing this valuable product locally.

Several of the Farm Bureau units throughout the county are arranging exhibits, and it is expected that there will be a keen rivalry as to which club will arrange the most attractive display.

The Word "Jovial"

The word "jovial" conceals the name of Jupiter, or Jove, according to the Washington Post. A "jovial" person is theoretically, at least, a person born under the influence of the planet Jupiter, or Jove.

The planet was supposed to be the most joyful of all the planets to be born under, just as Saturn is the least joyful.

Gradually the word "jovial" became dissociated from the astrological significance, and was generally applied to persons who indicated the quality of joyfulness ascribed to birth under a joyful planet.

Thus many a word in the English language in common use, traces its origin to mystic beginnings and beliefs in the darkness of the past ages.

Famous Ancient Tapestry

During the year 1748 a quantity of beautifully executed tapestry was discovered in the cathedral of Bayeux, near Cannes, France. It is said to be of the Eleventh century, the work of Matilda, wife of William the Conqueror, and ladies of her court. The tapestry, which is 214 feet long and 20 inches wide, contains 72 sections, each of which represents a scene in the life of the Saxon King Harold from the time of his visit to the Norman court to his tragic death in the battle of Hastings. In these scenes are 1,522 figures. In 1803 Napoleon, contemplating an early invasion of England, had the tapestry removed to Paris, where it was exhibited at the National museum. The following year it was returned to Bayeux.

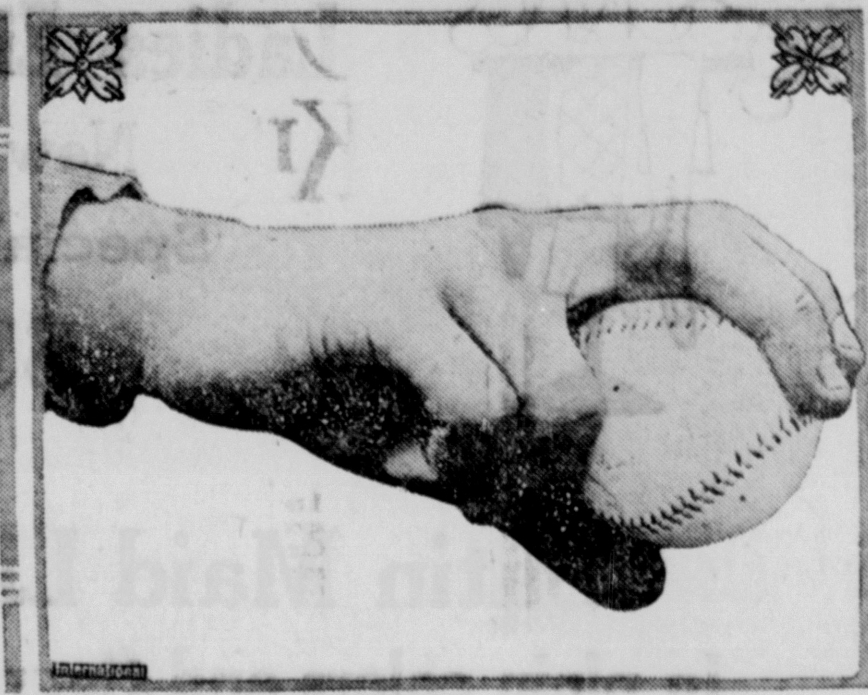

Longest Railroad in World

The longest line of railroad in the world is the Trans-Siberian. It runs from Leningrad to Vladivostok, a distance of over 5,500 miles. The largest system of railways operated under one management is the Canadian National. Its total mileage is over 22,000. The largest railway system in the United States is the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul with a total mileage of over 15,000.

Famous Mount

Mount Parnassus is in ancient Phocis, 65 miles northwest of Athens. It is celebrated as one of the principal seats of Apollo and the Muses, and as an inspiring source of poetry and song. The Delphic oracle and the Castalian spring were on its southern slope. The expression "to climb Parnassus," meaning to write poetry, is an expression once in vogue.—Kansas City Star.

Ed Rommel Is Connie Mack's Star

Ed Rommel, star moundsman with Connie Mack's Athletics, has two excellent deliveries—a knuckle ball and a fast one. When ready to deliver the fast ball, Rommel grasps the horsehide with his fore and middle fingers, resting the ball on his thumb and two other fingers, as pictured here.

Mike O'Neill Worried Over His Easy Money

Leo Browne, the former umpire, tells a story on Mike O'Neill, manager of Syracuse, then in the New York State league. It had become a custom on the part of the management of a large industrial plant in a small city to have two of the league teams play a regular game once or twice a month at the factory that the employees might have a treat. Syracuse was one of the teams chosen for the game and O'Neill collected a check for $500 for his team's end of the exhibition.

The opposing team by the end of the second inning had piled up a score of 14 to 0. O'Neill went along, even forgetting to change pitchers, when some one finally asked him what the heck he was trying to do.

"Oh, I'm not worrying about the game," answered Mike. "It's whether or not this check is good that's botherin' me."

Finland's Great Runner

Paavo Nurmi of Finland came through as expected and outtraced a fine field to win the final of the 1,500-meter run in the Olympic track and field games and established a new Olympic record of 3:53.3-5. Nurmi had no difficulty in winning.

DIAMOND PICK-UPS

One should pity the blind, but it is hard to do if the racial is an umpire.

Joe Sugden, coach of St. Louis pitchers, has been playing baseball for 31 years.

Mike Fife, former Vernon and Los Angeles pitcher, has been signed by Wichita.

Bill McKenty has been obtained by Rochester from New Haven of the Eastern league.

Rube Ehrhardt, the new Dodger pitcher, comes from Lakeland of the Florida State league.

This is the season when the phonetic spellers should advance the wisdom of making it razzberry.

Tulsa has signed Pitcher Wheat, late of the Bristow team of the now defunct Oklahoma State league.

Conney Stengel says comedy doesn't pay on the ball field. Maybe that's why the Cardinals draw so poorly.

An old-timer is a man who can remember when small towns produced great leaders instead of great hitters.

Catcher Sam Agnew of San Francisco likely will be out of the game for the remainder of the season as the result of an appendicitis operation.

Foxy Taylor, a pitcher hailing from Hammond, Ind., has been signed by Danville of the Three-I league. In his first out he twirled a splendid game.

Dave McMullen, shortstop from the Danville, Va., club of the Piedmont league, has been added to the roster of the Philadelphia American league team.

Charlie Wolfe, sent to Portland by Connie Mack, has again crossed the country to join Bridgeport. Wolfe formerly pitched for the House of David team.

Gabby Street's Muskogee Athletics made a great start toward the championship of the league in the last half when they hung up 11 straight victories before they met a reverse.

Hartford and Albany have trumped up a trade whereby Teddy Hawk, the hard-hitting third baseman, and Catcher Hager are to go to Albany in exchange for infielder Eddie Kenna.

President Mac Moore of Reading hastens to dispute the report that Hack Mueller, his star second baseman, is on the market, and that dealings were made to give Mueller to Jersey City for Jimmy Walsh.

McLEAN STOPS AZZARELLA IN 6 FAST ROUNDS

Milwaukee, Aug. 25.—Stewart McLean, squatly Twin Cities fighter, found Joe Azzarella, Milwaukee, in his kicking and stopped the flashy Italian in six rounds here. Having been floored three times in the fifth with a series of short jabs at close quarters, Azzarella was unable to continue when the bell sounded for the sixth round. In the semi-wind-up Joe Sielaff won over Tony Sanders in the sixth round on a technical knockout.

GENARO WINS FROM LEVINE IN 12 ROUNDS

New York, Aug. 25.—Frankie Genaro, American flyweight champion, won a 12-round decision from Billy Levine. Genaro will meet Pancho Villa for the world's championship here Sept. 8.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Advt.

HILL WOULD COMBINE FOUR RAILWAY SYSTEMS

ERIE, BURLINGTON, NORTHERN
PACIFIC AND GREAT NORTH-
ERN INVOLVED

PURCHASE OF EASTERN LINES
BY CAPITALISTS SAID TO
REVEAL PROJECT

(From St. Paul Daily News)

One of the greatest railroad mergers of all history and the realization of another of the dreams of James J. Hill, the Empire Builder, is reliably reported in railroad circles.

The merger or combination involves linking the Erie railroad at Chicago with the Great Northern and Northern Pacific.

This combination would give the first railroad system in the United States running from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast.

The merger report was scouted this morning by Ralph Budd, president, Great Northern railway.

"There will surely be no merger of eastern roads with western roads," he said. "It is physically impractical." Mr. Budd stated that reports of the proposed linking up of Erie and Burlington lines "probably emanated in Wall st."

James J. Hill, when he tried to merge the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Burlington under the old Northern Securities Co., had plans with the Erie for the coast-to-coast system.

Fred Underwood, president of the Erie, always was regarded as a Hill associate and he will be a big factor in the proposed merger.

The report today grew out of the purchase by the Van Sweringen brothers of Ohio of the Nickel Plate, Hocking Valley, Clover Leaf, Lake Erie & Western and the Chesapeake & Ohio roads and the rumors that they would soon own or control the Erie.

The Van Sweringen brothers are both young men and as railroad men point out that they never could acquire the railroad holdings they have without some big interest being back of it. This big interest is said to be George F. Baker and his son, both of whom are strongly allied with the Great Northern and Northern Pacific.

When James J. Hill proposed to make the merger which is now said to be assured he is said to have sent Mr. Underwood to the Erie and he himself became a director of it.

The fact that the government now is willing to have the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington combine while 20 years ago they fought Mr. Hill on this merger, would indicate that the Erie road would be permitted to enter into the famous northwest family of railroads.

Railroad men say that when the roads are combined that the personnel of the officers will not be disturbed.

Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific, has made a great record with that system since becoming its president and he is looked upon both in the west and the east as one of the foremost railroad men in the country.

Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern, has brought that line up to the state of perfection that it enjoyed in its best days under Mr. Hill and is building ever greater.

The Burlington is owned jointly by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific and the fate of the officers of that system naturally will depend upon the officers of the two companies that own it.

Pawnbroker Has Long Been Known as "Uncle"

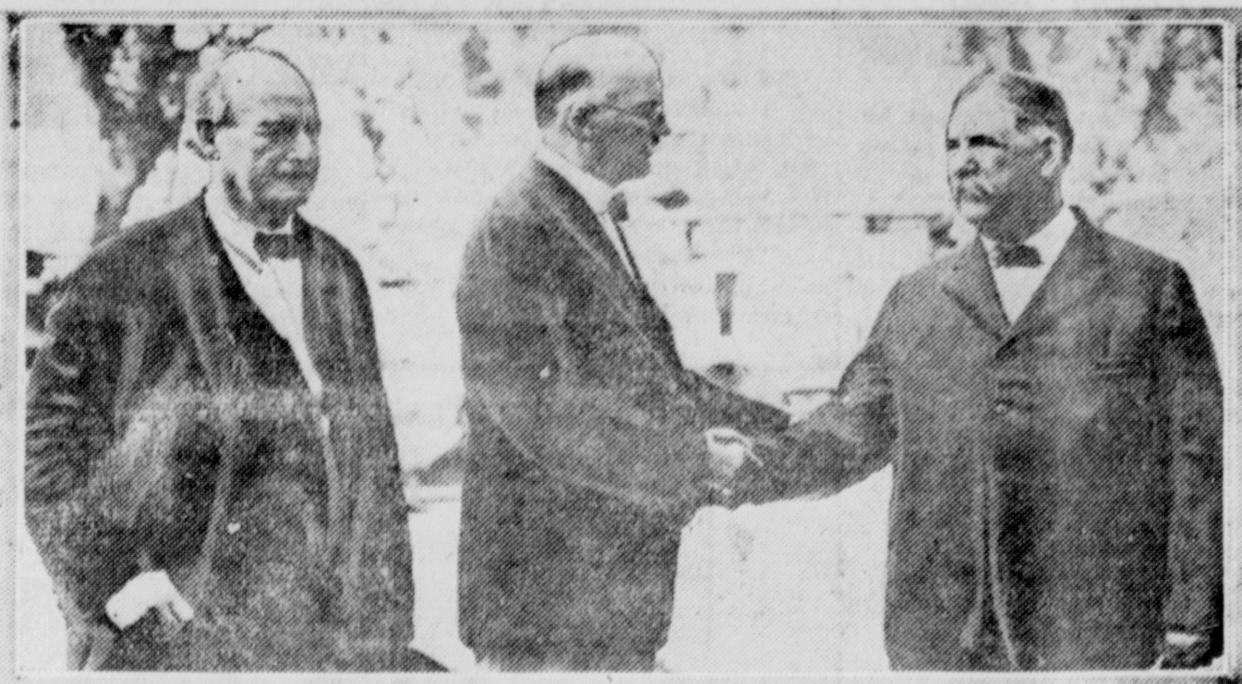

Authorities differ as to the origin of "uncle" as applied to pawnbrokers. Some say "uncle" in this sense is a pun on the Latin word "uncus," a hook. Before spouts were adopted pawnbrokers used hooks to lift articles pawned. "Gone to the uncus," say these authorities, was soon corrupted into "gone to my uncle's," the pronoun "my" being supplied for the sake of euphony, according to the Detroit News. This theory receives some slight confirmation in the fact that a pawnbroker's shop is also sometimes called a "spout." This is because a spout is usually used to lift the articles pawned.

But there seems to be a more plausible theory as to the origin of "uncle" as applied to pawnbrokers. People instinctively try to conceal the fact that they have pawned an article. It is natural for such persons to pretend that money thus obtained is from a rich uncle.

Better Give It the T. O.

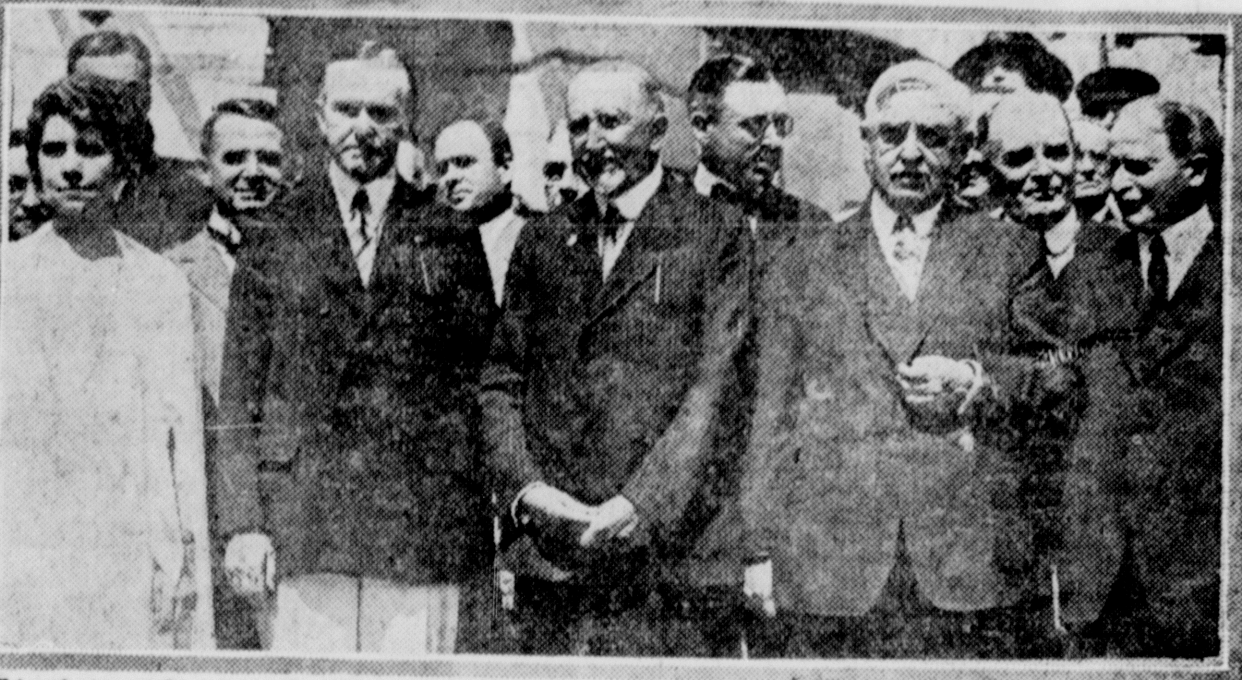

A lot of trouble results from our giving something the O. K. without first giving it the T. O.

SCENE AT LINCOLN, NEB., AS GOVERNOR BRYAN ACCEPTS NOMINATION FOR THE VICE PRESIDENCY

Long-time friends and national and sectional party leaders made up a colorful gathering as Governor Charles W. Bryan formally accepted the Democratic nomination as the running-mate of John W. Davis. Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi delivered the notification address. The photograph shows Governor Bryan shaking hands with Senator Charles E. Hull, of Salem, Ill. The nominee's brother, William J. Bryan, is at the left. All three were born and raised in the same block in Salem.

YELLOWSTONE PARK DRAWS TOURISTS

(By United Press)
Yellowstone Park, Wyo., Aug. 25.—The National Park habit is growing on Americans.

Not alone are they, in greatly increasing numbers, visiting one national park this summer; they are making park-to-park tours in even greater throngs than in any past season. They come in here to Yellowstone, the windshields of their automobiles literally plastered with stickers indicating that they have been to anywhere from half a dozen to 15 of the national parks. Many of those who start here declare their intention of stopping at other parks.

Many of these tourists explain that in former years they spent their vacations at some resort. They would go to the seashore or the mountains or the country, and stay there. Not an inconsiderable number used to regard summer as the time to visit Europe. But the National Park idea is voted by all of those interviewed as far and away the best vacation idea that they have ever hit upon.

It offers a wide variety of scenic splendors, but the real lure of it is the constant movement and change, the tourists say. It sometimes happens that a family will start out to visit but one of the parks, and while there will be told by other "sagebrushers" of another park. Then they decide to go on, and they usually keep going until necessity calls them from their wanderings.

One of these park-to-park tourists, who kept a daily journal of "Experiences, Expenses and Etceteras" as he said, was a lawyer from Pittsburgh, Pa., who said he had collected material for several talks before clubs he belonged to.

"I am going to get some moving pictures of our parks," he said, "and show them this winter to the men in Pittsburgh whom I know. And I'm going to read them things out of my little diary, and sell them this same idea. It's been the best summer we ever spent."

This "sagebrusher" had some interesting and amusing entries in his book. For instance:

"June 12. Some place in North Dakota. Like many another city man, I have been disposed to regard some of this talk of the farmer's troubles as bunk. But since hitting these North Dakota roads, I am convinced that the farmers in this state, at least, are as badly off, if not worse than we have been told. I never saw such a discouraged road in my life. Certainly the communities along it must be hard up to permit it to continue advertising them in its present state.

"June 23. Glacier National Park. Back in the old (name of auto deleted). We greatly enjoyed our trip through this park, with its magnificent scenery. Its mountain lakes don't need to take a back seat for anything in the Canadian Rockies. We had five punctures today, a record thus far. Julian lost his temper the last time; I didn't blame him. Some sort of man-eating insect bit me on the left ear; it's swelled up as though a bee had stung me. That young imp Josephine insisted on taking countless snapshots of me. I do look funny."

"July 20. Reached Yellowstone in a rainstorm. Heavy snow on all the peaks around Mammoth Hot Springs. Some sight—a blizzard in midsummer, and the temperature at home is probably about 100. The big log fire in the camp "lobby" was sure cheerful looking. Julian has decided to become a park ranger next summer—if his mother will let him. Josephine says if he does, she'll be a "heaver" or a "pillow puncher" at one of the park camps. (A "heaver" is Park-ese for waitress; a "pillow puncher" is one who makes beds in the lodges in camp.—Ed.)

Big Noise, Little Cause

The noise in the receiver of the telephone apparatus is made by the vibration of a diaphragm, but it is hard to conceive the minuteness of this vibration. A scientific person has recently undertaken to measure this agitation of the diaphragm and has arrived at the conclusion that it is no more than one thirty-fifth part of the millionth of an inch.

HILL WOULD COMBINE FOUR RAILWAY SYSTEMS

ERIE, BURLINGTON, NORTHERN
PACIFIC AND GREAT NORTH-
ERN INVOLVED

PURCHASE OF EASTERN LINES
BY CAPITALISTS SAID TO
REVEAL PROJECT

(From St. Paul Daily News)

One of the greatest railroad mergers of all history and the realization of another of the dreams of James J. Hill, the Empire Builder, is reliably reported in railroad circles.

The merger or combination involves linking the Erie railroad at Chicago with the Great Northern and Northern Pacific.

This combination would give the first railroad system in the United States running from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast.

The merger report was scouted this morning by Ralph Budd, president, Great Northern railway.

"There will surely be no merger of eastern roads with western roads," he said. "It is physically impractical." Mr. Budd stated that reports of the proposed linking up of Erie and Burlington lines "probably emanated in Wall st."

James J. Hill, when he tried to merge the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Burlington under the old Northern Securities Co., had plans with the Erie for the coast-to-coast system.

Fred Underwood, president of the Erie, always was regarded as a Hill associate and he will be a big factor in the proposed merger.

The report today grew out of the purchase by the Van Sweringen brothers of Ohio of the Nickel Plate, Hocking Valley, Clover Leaf, Lake Erie & Western and the Chesapeake & Ohio roads and the rumors that they would soon own or control the Erie.

The Van Sweringen brothers are both young men and as railroad men point out that they never could acquire the railroad holdings they have without some big interest being back of it. This big interest is said to be George F. Baker and his son, both of whom are strongly allied with the Great Northern and Northern Pacific.

When James J. Hill proposed to make the merger which is now said to be assured he is said to have sent Mr. Underwood to the Erie and he himself became a director of it.

The fact that the government now is willing to have the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington combine while 20 years ago they fought Mr. Hill on this merger, would indicate that the Erie road would be permitted to enter into the famous northwest family of railroads.

Railroad men say that when the roads are combined that the personnel of the officers will not be disturbed.

Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific, has made a great record with that system since becoming its president and he is looked upon both in the west and the east as one of the foremost railroad men in the country.

Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern, has brought that line up to the state of perfection that it enjoyed in its best days under Mr. Hill and is building ever greater.

The Burlington is owned jointly by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific and the fate of the officers of that system naturally will depend upon the officers of the two companies that own it.

Pawnbroker Has Long Been Known as "Uncle"

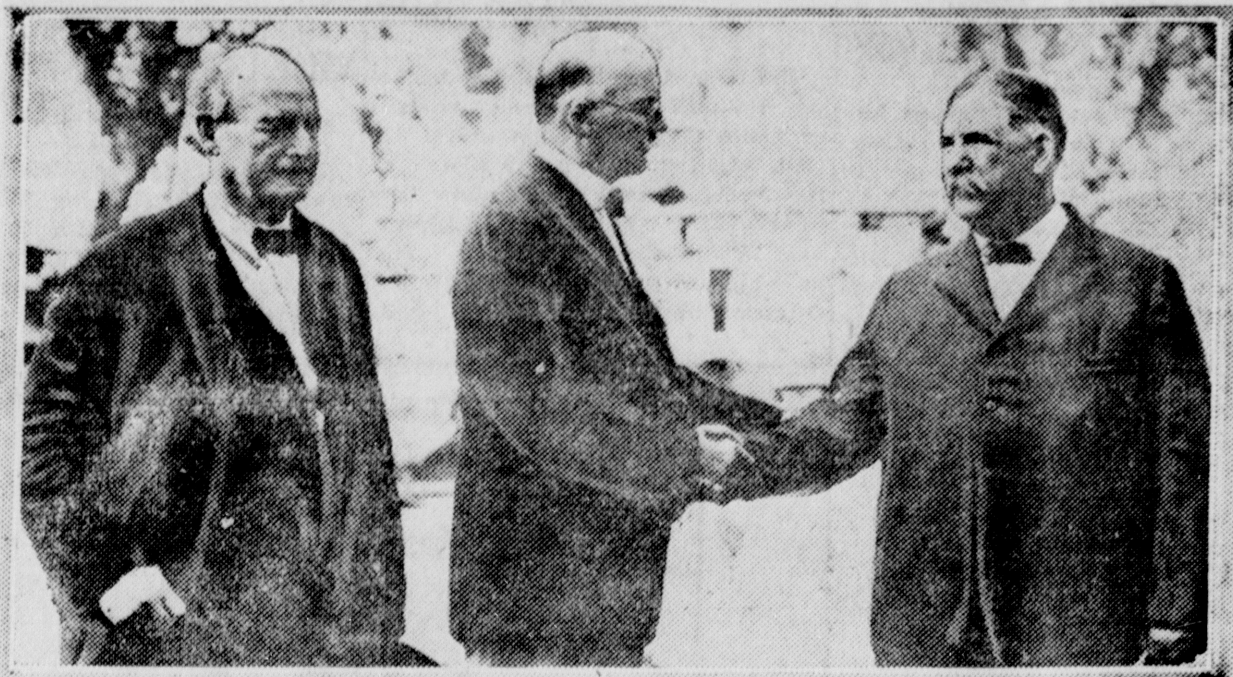

Authorities differ as to the origin of "uncle" as applied to pawnbrokers. Some say "uncle" in this sense is a pun on the Latin word "uncus," a hook. Before spouts were adopted pawnbrokers used hooks to lift articles pawned. "Come to the uncus," say these authorities, was soon corrupted into "come to my uncle's," the pronoun "my" being supplied for the sake of euphony, according to the Detroit News. This theory receives some slight confirmation in the fact that a pawnbroker's shop is also sometimes called a "spout." This is because a spout is usually used to lift the articles pawned.

But there seems to be a more plausible theory as to the origin of "uncle" as applied to pawnbrokers. People instinctively try to conceal the fact that they have pawned an article. It is natural for such persons to pretend that money thus obtained is from a rich uncle.

JOYRIDERS ARE BEING WATCHED

Local Police State Joyriders Taking Cars Without Permission Face Heavy Penalties

TWO OCCURRENCES GIVEN

Chevrolet "Borrowed" and Then Abandoned, Farmer's Car "Borrowed" Over Night

Local police state that there is quite a little complaint among automobile owners, caused by joyriders taking cars from parking places on the downtown streets, and leaving them after the ride in various parts of the city.

On Saturday evening a Chevrolet touring car, belonging to a man in Northeast Brainerd, was taken from the curb in front of the Ransford block and was found on Sunday morning, abandoned on South Fourth street.

A similar occurrence took place on Sunday night, when a Ford touring car was taken from the curb across the street from the Ten Thousand Lakes garage. The car belonged to Otto Jordan, living on Rural Route No. 5. It was found about eight o'clock Monday morning in an alley at the rear of the Standard Lumber Company's yards on South Seventh street.

The police believe that there are several young men who are making a practice of "borrowing" these cars, and while perhaps there is no harm done to the automobile itself, still there is a heavy penalty attached if the persons are found and convicted.

Automobile owners are urged to take every precaution against such an emergency, and are advised to leave their cars securely locked against theft when parked about the city, especially during the evening.

ALL IOWA KNOWS OUR LAKE REGION

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Nelson Attended Annual Convention American Veterinary Medical Association

1000 WERE IN ATTENDANCE

Past President Stange Has a Summer Home Near Brainerd

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Nelson returned on Sunday afternoon from Des Moines, Iowa, after an absence of a week, in which time they attended the annual convention of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Dr. Nelson reports an attendance of seven hundred veterinarians and three hundred ladies registered. Several did not register, which would bring the total well above the one thousand mark.

Dr. L. A. Merrill, of Chicago, was elected president for the ensuing year and the convention goes to Portland, Oregon in 1925.

Dr. and Mrs. Nelson made the trip to Des Moines by automobile. A great deal of rain and hail was encountered enroute. Quite a strip north of Iowa Falls, Iowa was damaged by hail, nothing left of the corn but the bare stalks.

The same thing happened in Minnesota, said Dr. Nelson, the hail taking a strip from Fairbault east to Cannon Falls. Water stood more than two feet deep in several places on the Jefferson highway. Five inches of rain fell on Thursday afternoon at Iowa Falls, the storm assuming the proportions of a cloudburst.

Dr. Nelson states that everyone in Iowa seems to have heard about the ten thousand lakes of Minnesota. In conversation with a number of people, the fact was frequently mentioned that they had either just returned from a visit to the Minnesota lake region, or were contemplating such a trip.

The out-going president of the American Veterinary Medical Association, Dr. C. H. Stange, dean of the Iowa state college, at Ames, Iowa, has a summer home on Ten Mile lake, near Hackensack. Others from Ames and Des Moines, Iowa have lake homes in this region.

Everyone joined in praising the Minnesota lakes and summer playgrounds, said Dr. Nelson, and we of the Brainerd district do not realize the advantage of getting away to a cool lake resort until we sample the humidity and excessive heat in the states immediately south of Minnesota.

The announcement of the sweepstakes prize of a hundred pound sack of Occident flour given by Alderman G. A. Cain, for the best bouquet of flowers in the pavilion caused considerable interest. This is open to men, women or children. This prize will carry a pink ribbon.

The Rebekah social club announced a picnic and supper at the park for Tuesday, and the city band will give their last concert in the evening.

Everything points to this being the biggest day of the summer season and the weather man has given us the brand of weather that will make it a real pleasure, to spend the afternoon and evening at the park.

Sure Cure For Freckles

A Pine River girl answered an advertisement of a New York firm the other day offering for 25 cents to send a receipt for a sure cure for freckles. She sent her quarter and this is what she got: "Remove the freckles carefully with a putty knife, soak them in salt water over night, then hang up in smoke house in a strong smoke made of saw-dust and slippery elm-bark, for about a week. Freckles thus treated never fail to be thoroughly cured."—Pine River Sentinel-Blaze.

He Couldn't Wait

One evening when calling on my sweetie her little sister ran into the room and jumped on my lap. She sat real still for a few minutes, then suddenly she threw both chubby arms around my neck. "I jus' love you, Dan," she whispered in my ear. "I wish you'd please wait till I grow up, so's I could marry you!" But I didn't. I married "big sister" instead.—Chicago Journal.

WEEKLY BAND CONCERT TUESDAY

Will be Last One of Summer Season, Given at Lum Park Tuesday Instead Wednesday

FLOWER AND GARDEN SHOW ON

Rebekah Social Club Will Also Have Annual Picnic at Park and Serve Supper at Moderate Price

The weekly band concert, the last one of this summer season, will be held at Lum park on Tuesday evening, August 26th, instead of on Wednesday evening as heretofore.

This change in nights was made to accommodate the Flower and Garden exhibit, which is being staged at Lum park on Tuesday afternoon and evening, by the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League.

Lum park is conceded to be the most popular amusement place in the Brainerd district, and with the return of the warm weather, the bathing and picnic facilities are taxed to their limit.

The Brainerd Park Board states that Lum park will close about the middle of September, and urges Brainerd people to make the best use of this amusement center in the meantime. There is ample room for picnic parties, and the bathing beach is at its best. Lunches and refreshments can be purchased on the grounds, by those who desire.

The Rebekah social club will hold its annual picnic at the park on Tuesday and will serve supper at a moderate cost.

The Brainerd municipal band, under the leadership of Director W. R. Hiller, has given Brainerd music lovers exceptionally fine concerts this season, and it is with genuine regret that it is learned that they are to end with the one on Tuesday night. All citizens are asked to show their appreciation of the band's efforts, by attending this concert one hundred per cent strong, and giving the band a big farewell ovation.

BUSINESS MEN

CLUB DINNER

To be Served by Association at Chamber of Commerce Rooms Tomorrow Evening

IMPORTANT TOPICS UP

"Shall Stores Remain Open Until 3 Before Holidays, Shall Merchants and Clerks Picnic be Abolished"

The Business Men's Association dinner, postponed from last Thursday, will be held on Tuesday evening, August 26th, at the Chamber of Commerce. This is to be one of Al Beaver's famous feeds, and will be served at 6:15 o'clock. All business men of the city are asked to attend.

Immediately following the supper, the association will hold a very important meeting, to which all are urged to attend, whether they belong to the organization or not. Subjects of vital interest to every business man will be discussed, and it is hoped that there will be a good representation present.

One of the subjects which it is hoped will be disposed of at this meeting is that of opening stores the night before Christmas. This has been the subject of debate for some time, and the opinion of merchants will be brought out on Tuesday evening.

"Shall the merchants and clerks picnic day be abolished or the date changed on account of the tourist business?" One solution advanced for this question is to hold a big community picnic early in the season for shop employees, farmers, merchants and clerks, making a big get-together event that would be worthy of the name of a community picnic. The annual merchants and clerks picnic this year caused considerable comment, and it is hoped to dispose of the subject, once for all, at Tuesday evening's meeting.

The matter of keeping stores open until eight o'clock before holidays is one that the merchants would like to dispose of at this time. Any decision on the matter would not affect Labor Day, since this holiday falls on Monday.

These are a few of the many subjects that will come before the meeting on Tuesday night, and all are of special importance to all business men of the city.

Business men are urged to forgo one evening at the lake, or cancel any other engagements they may have made for Tuesday night, and attend this association meeting, one hundred per cent strong. It is not often that the Business Men's Association holds public meetings, and it is only because of the urgent demand for one that it is held at this time.

A TEN-POUND WALL-EYED PIKE

Now Advertising Brainerd in Offices of Ten Thousand Lakes Association of Minnesota

CAUGHT IN GILBERT LAKE

Fisherman W. R. Greenwood First Had it on Exhibition at Perry Hardware Company

The ten-pound wall-eyed pike, admired by many when it was exhibited some time ago in the windows of the Perry Hardware Co., is now advertising Brainerd in the offices of the Ten Thousand Lakes of Minnesota Association in St. Paul.

The big fish was caught by W. R. Greenwood in Gilbert lake. It was thirty inches in length, and tipped the scales at just ten pounds when taken from the water.

Mr. Greenwood gave the pike to the Ten Thousand Lakes Association, and this organization had it mounted by Theodore Miller, Brainerd taxidermist.

This work of mounting has just been completed, and the pike is now gracing the offices of the association in St. Paul, where it will be seen by thousands of tourists and will act as a standing invitation for the summer visitors to spend their outings in the Brainerd lake region.

JOYRIDERS ARE BEING WATCHED

Local Police State Joyriders Taking
Cars Without Permission Face
Heavy Penalties

TWO OCCURRENCES GIVEN

Chevrolet "Borrowed" and Then Abandoned, Farmer's Car "Borrowed" Over Night

Local police state that there is quite a little complaint among automobile owners, caused by joyriders taking cars from parking places on the downtown streets, and leaving them after the ride in various parts of the city.

On Saturday evening a Chevrolet touring car, belonging to a man in Northeast Brainerd, was taken from the curb in front of the Ransford block and was found on Sunday morning, abandoned on South Fourth street.

A similar occurrence took place on Sunday night, when a Ford touring car was taken from the curb across the street from the Ten Thousand Lakes garage. The car belonged to Otto Jordan, living on Rural Route No. 5. It was found about eight o'clock Monday morning in an alley at the rear of the Standard Lumber Company's yards on South Seventh street.

The police believe that there are several young men who are making a practice of "borrowing" these cars, and while perhaps there is no harm done to the automobile itself, still there is a heavy penalty attached if the persons are found and convicted.

Automobile owners are urged to take every precaution against such an emergency, and are advised to leave their cars securely locked against theft when parked about the city, especially during the evening.

ALL IOWA KNOWS OUR LAKE REGION

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Nelson Attended
Annual Convention American
Veterinary Medical Association

1000 WERE IN ATTENDANCE

Past President Stange Has a Summer Home Near
Brainerd

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Nelson returned on Sunday afternoon from Des Moines, Iowa, after an absence of a week, in which time they attended the annual convention of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Dr. Nelson reports an attendance of seven hundred veterinarians and three hundred ladies registered. Several did not register, which would bring the total well above the one thousand mark.

Dr. L. A. Merrillat, of Chicago, was elected president for the ensuing year and the convention goes to Portland, Oregon in 1925.

Dr. and Mrs. Nelson made the trip to Des Moines by automobile. A great deal of rain and hail was encountered enroute. Quite a strip north of Iowa Falls, Iowa was damaged by hail, nothing left of the corn but the bare stalks.

The same thing happened in Minnesota, said Dr. Nelson, the hail taking a strip from Faribault east to Cannon Falls. Water stood more than two feet deep in several places on the Jefferson highway. Five inches of rain fell on Thursday afternoon at Iowa Falls, the storm assuming the proportions of a cloudburst.

Dr. Nelson states that everyone in Iowa seems to have heard about the ten thousand lakes of Minnesota. In conversation with a number of people, the fact was frequently mentioned that they had either just returned from a visit to the Minnesota lake region, or were contemplating such a trip.

The out-going president of the American Veterinary Medical Association, Dr. C. H. Stange, dean of the Iowa state college, at Ames, Iowa, has a summer home on Ten Mile lake, near Hackensack. Others from Ames and Des Moines, Iowa have lake homes in this region.

Everyone joined in praising the Minnesota lakes and summer playgrounds, said Dr. Nelson, and we of the Brainerd district do not realize the advantage of getting away to a cool lake resort until we sample the humidity and excessive heat in the states immediately south of Minnesota.

Are Leaving Deerwood

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Wyness are leaving tomorrow (Saturday) in their car for Minneapolis where they will visit one of their daughters and later will go to Chicago. They sold their residence here some time ago, and have also disposed of their household goods. They will likely make their home in the east, although they have not decided where they will settle down. Mrs. Wyness has been an energetic worker in the Methodist church and other organizations of the village and both she and Mr. Wyness have made many warm friends during their residence here. —Deerwood Enterprise.

noon at Lum Park
Pavilion

SACK OF FLOUR SWEEPSTAKE

Thirty-One Prizes For the Children
Exhibitors of Northeast
Brainerd

Tomorrow is the big day.

Everything is all set for the Flower and Garden exhibit at Lum park pavilion tomorrow afternoon and evening. Mrs. Herbert and her committee will complete all advance preparations tonight and will be ready to receive, mark and place all entries tomorrow forenoon. All exhibits should be at the pavilion by 12 o'clock noon.

The judges, Miss Anna Himrod, E. G. Roth and W. C. Cobb, will make their awards between one and two o'clock. First prizes will carry a blue card, second a red card and third prizes an orange card. These prizes will be completed for by the children only.

A special committee judged the gardens Saturday afternoon and the prize winners will be announced tomorrow. Turcotte Bros. are donating the prizes in this section.

There will be a large display of fancy work done by the ladies of Northeast which promises to be worth the price of admission, 10c, alone. There will be exhibits of work done in the old country 50 to 70 years ago as well as the very latest in this line. No prizes are offered in this section.

The announcement of the sweepstakes prize of a hundred pound sack of Occident flour given by Alderman G. A. Cain, for the best bouquet of flowers in the pavilion caused considerable interest. This is open to men, women or children. This prize will carry a pink ribbon.

The Rebekah social club announced a picnic and supper at the park for Tuesday, and the city band will give their last concert in the evening.

Everything points to this being the biggest day of the summer season and the weather man has given us the brand of weather that will make it a real pleasure, to spend the afternoon and evening at the park.

Oh, yes! Big Chief "Aint Gonna Rain No Moah" has received the new blanket for his Princess and they will be there in all their beauty to greet the people of Brainerd and vicinity.

Sure Cure For Freckles

A Pine River girl answered an advertisement of a New York firm the other day offering for 25 cents to send a receipt for a sure cure for freckles. She sent her quarter and this is what she got: "Remove the freckles carefully with a putty knife, soak them in salt water over night, then hang up in smoke house in a strong smoke made of saw-dust and slippery elm-bark, for about a week. Freckles thus treated never fail to be thoroughly cured."—Pine River Sentinel-Blaze.

He Couldn't Wait

One evening when calling on my sweetie her little sister ran into the room and jumped on my lap. She sat real still for a few minutes, then suddenly she threw both chubby arms around my neck. "I jus' love you, Dan," she whispered in my ear. "I wish you'd please wait till I grow up so's I could marry you!" But I didn't. I married "big sister" instead.—Chicago Journal.

FLOWER AND GARDEN SHOW ON

Rebekah Social Club Will Also Have
Annual Picnic at Park and Serve
Supper at Moderate Price

The weekly band concert, the last one of this summer season, will be held at Lum park on Tuesday evening, August 26th, instead of on Wednesday evening as heretofore.

This change in nights was made to accommodate the Flower and Garden exhibit, which is being staged at Lum park on Tuesday afternoon and evening, by the Northeast Brainerd Improvement League.

Lum park is conceded to be the most popular amusement place in the Brainerd district, and with the return of the warm weather, the bathing and picnic facilities are taxed to their limit.

The Brainerd Park Board states that Lum park will close about the middle of September, and urges Brainerd people to make the best use of this amusement center in the meantime. There is ample room for picnic parties, and the bathing beach is at its best. Lunches and refreshments can be purchased on the grounds, by those who desire.

The Rebekah social club will hold its annual picnic at the park on Tuesday and will serve supper at a moderate cost.

The Brainerd municipal band, under the leadership of Director W. R. Hiller, has given Brainerd music lovers exceptionally fine concerts this season, and it is with genuine regret that it is learned that they are to end with the one on Tuesday night. All citizens are asked to show their appreciation of the band's efforts, by attending this concert one hundred per cent strong, and giving the band a big farewell ovation.

BUSINESS MEN CLUB DINNER

IMPORTANT TOPICS UP

"Shall Stores Remain Open Until 3
Before Holidays, Shall Merchants and Clerks Picnic be Abolished

The Business Men's Association dinner, postponed from last Thursday, will be held on Tuesday evening, August 26th, at the Chamber of Commerce. This is to be one of Al Beaver's famous feasts, and will be served at 6:15 o'clock. All business men of the city are asked to attend.

Immediately following the supper, the association will hold a very important meeting, to which all are urged to attend, whether they belong to the organization or not. Subjects of vital interest to every business man will be discussed, and it is hoped that there will be a good representation present.

One of the subjects which it is hoped will be disposed of at this meeting is that of opening stores the night before Christmas. This has been the subject of debate for some time, and the opinion of merchants will be brought out on Tuesday evening.

"Shall the merchants and clerks picnic day be abolished or the date changed on account of the tourist business?" One solution advanced for this question is to hold a big community picnic early in the season for shop employees, farmers, merchants and clerks, making a big get-together event that would be worthy of the name of a community picnic. The annual merchants and clerks picnic this year caused considerable comment, and it is hoped to dispose of the subject, once for all, at Tuesday evening's meeting.

The matter of keeping stores open until eight o'clock before holidays is one that the merchants would like to dispose of at this time. Any decision on the matter would not affect Labor Day, since this holiday falls on Monday.

These are a few of the many subjects that will come before the meeting on Tuesday night, and all are of special importance to all business men of the city.

Business men are urged to forgo one evening at the lake, or cancel any other engagements they may have made for Tuesday night, and attend this association meeting, one hundred per cent strong. It is not often that the Business Men's Association holds public meetings, and it is only because of the urgent demand for one that it is held at this time.

The ten-pound wall-eyed pike, admired by many when it was exhibited some time ago in the windows of the Perry Hardware Co., is now advertising Brainerd in the offices of the Ten Thousand Lakes of Minnesota Association in St. Paul.

The big fish was caught by W. R. Greenwood in Gilbert lake. It was thirty inches in length, and tipped the scales at just ten pounds when taken from the water.

Mr. Greenwood gave the pike to the Ten Thousand Lakes Association, and this organization had it mounted by Theodore Miller, Brainerd taxidermist.

This work of mounting has just been completed, and the pike is now gracing the offices of the association in St. Paul, where it will be seen by thousands of tourists and will act as a standing invitation for the summer visitors to spend their outings in the Brainerd lake region.

OLYMPIC TRAINERS DESERVE CREDIT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 25.—America's success in the Olympic games was due not only to the possession of a large number of superior athletes, but also to the care and fine treatment given the athletes by the managers and trainers of the team.

Charles Dean and George Brown, the two managers of the team, were on the job constantly, and their concern for the comfort and welfare of the team was in striking contrast to the actions of the management of the 1920 team, who acted on the assumption that the team was not composed of school boys, and that they could take care of themselves.

During the games the managers and coaches of the team were not well acquainted enough with the head waiters of the Montmartre cabarets and the other bright-light places in Paris to call them by their first names and get choice tables. They were at Rocquencourt and the Colombes village with the athletes. They also had a team of men, but they knew that the job of getting ready and competing in the games was enough to occupy the attention of the men without bothering them with the task of finding something to eat and some place to sleep, as the athletes had to do in Antwerp.

The coaching and training of Lawson Robertson, Walter Christie, Alonzo Stagg, Eddie Farrell, Bill Haywood, Johnny Mackee, Tom Keane and Jake Weber was splendid, and the results of their attention, care and hard work was plainly apparent. There were no star athletes hurt or ruined in training before the games, as there were in Antwerp. With the exception of a few bad breaks in actual competition the coaches were able to get about 100 per cent strength out of the team.

While the team was most admirably handled there were brought out a few defects in the management, which probably will be corrected when the arrangements are being made in 1928 for the trip to Amsterdam.

The only complaint the athletes made—and it was not made in the bitter spirit that almost caused a rebellion in Antwerp—was that the camp was too far away from the Colombes stadium. No place could have been picked as a more ideal place to live than the Murat chateau at Rocquencourt, and its lone bad feature was not the result of poor judgment on the part of the American committee, but came as a result of the failure of the transportation to live up to the promised speed.

The Rocquencourt villa was located about 12 miles from the Colombes stadium, and it was natural, perhaps, that Americans should figure that the trip would not consume more than 30 minutes over good roads. But the drivers of the busses operated on a schedule that was regularly about an hour and sometimes more.

It was mentioned previously that many times the athletes who competed in the late events on the program did not arrive at their camp until the kitchen had closed. This was not the fault of the committee, however. No American had thought of the possibility of having the games started at 3 o'clock and finishing as late as 9.

It had been planned to house the athletes scheduled in early events overnight at the Colombes village, but the accommodations were so poor that another carefully-made plan had to be abandoned through no fault of the committee.

The bouncing and jostling in a bus over 12 miles did not help the athletes and the irregularity of meals was also a handicap, but the athletes knew that the French committee was to blame, primarily, and they didn't grumble.

The American committee, in the past, has had bigger problems to face than the managers of European teams, and the same problems will have to be faced in the future. It is reasonable to believe that in such goods hands as the team was this year that these bigger problems will be met.

The Finns had an ideal camp. They were situated in a quiet village, near Colombes, within easy access of the stadium. The Americans might have had, and would have had a place just as good, if they only had the care of 70 athletes. But when there are more than 300 men and girls to take care of, the task is a tremendous job. There was not a spot closer than Rocquencourt where the American committee could find space to house and feed such a small army of athletes.

Another slight defect in the management can be corrected in the future. There should be some way of separating the athletes who have finished competition and those who are still in training. The committee should keep the various units of the team together. The boxers and swimmers should not be housed near the track athletes.

It is only natural that a young athlete who has been training for months should seek a little entertainment after he has finished his competition. He should be allowed to keep the lights on after hours and sing and dance if he wants to. But he should not do his celebrating in the same hut where a less fortunate companion is trying to get some rest for a hard competition on the following day.

These are all only minor grievances, however, and they can be corrected. Under the circumstances the American committee could not have done a better job. They had a big task—and they delivered.

TWIN CITY POLOISTS
SPLIT AT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 25.—With a handicap of one goal the St. Paul and Minneapolis team could not beat the St. Charles Reds here, Saturday, the local team winning, 5 to 4.

The Ft. Snelling Buffs administered a sound drubbing to the St. Charles Canaries, winning 9 to 2.

In the first game the Twin City team was leading 4 to 3 up to the beginning of the last chukkar, but the Reds sprinted and scored two goals in the last chukkar, both by Sifton.

The second game was a walkaway for the St. Paul team. Their riding and headwork was much superior to the Canaries.

The teams were:
St. Charles Reds—J. W. Sifton (1)

C. W. Tupper (2), R. H. Moore (3), W. A. Smith (back).

Twin Cities—T. C. Penny (1), L. D. Berry (2), M. E. Krier (3), Maj. L. K. Eaton (back).

MANKATO MUST SHOW
PROOF FOR HURLER

Owatonna, Minn., Aug. 25.—Unless the Mankato club's management offers more conclusive proof that Muecke, pitcher, is a resident of Mankato, than does evidence offered by Waseca, St. James and Blooming Prairie to the contrary, the Blue Sox will have to play three protested games at Mankato during the coming week. This decision was reached at a meeting of the board of directors of the Southern Minnesota Baseball Association here last night. The Owatonna club also announced that it would play the league's only postponed game with Austin here on Aug. 31.

Discussion at the session centered around allegations that Mankato's playing of Muecke constitutes a violation of league rules in that the club thus exceeded its allotted outside player limit. Considine, who had been listed as a home player, also came in for some criticism from the other clubs.

The Blooming Prairie club was relieved of a fine assessed by Pres. Quinn after showing that it had secured the consent of five league clubs to play a man under an assumed name. Plans for the championship series between the winners of the first and last halves of the season were left for settlement to the two clubs which will play.

OLYMPIC TRAINERS DESERVE CREDIT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 25.—America's success in the Olympic games was due not only to the possession of a large number of superior athletes, but also to the care and fine treatment given the athletes by the managers and trainers of the team.

Charles Dean and George Brown, the two managers of the team, were on the job constantly, and their concern for the comfort and welfare of the team was in striking contrast to the actions of the management of the 1920 team, who acted on the assumption that the team was not composed of school boys, and that they could take care of themselves.

During the games the managers and coaches of the team were not well acquainted enough with the head waiters of the Montmartre cabarets and the other bright-light places in Paris to call them by their first names and get choice tables. They were at Roquecourt and the Colombes village with the athletes. They also had a team of men, but they knew that the job of getting ready and competing in the games was enough to occupy the attention of the men without bothering them with the task of finding something to eat and some place to sleep, as the athletes had to do in Antwerp.

The coaching and training of Lawson Robertson, Walter Christie, Alonzo Stagg, Eddie Farrell, Bill Haywood, Johnny Magee, Tom Keane and Jake Weber was splendid, and the results, of their attention, care and hard work was plainly apparent. There were no star athletes hurt or ruined in training before the games, as there were in Antwerp. With the exception of a few bad breaks in actual competition the coaches were able to get about 100 per cent strength out of the team.

While the team was most admirably handled there were brought out a few defects in the management, which probably will be corrected when the arrangements are being made in 1928 for the trip to Amsterdam.

The only complaint the athletes made—and it was not made in the bitter spirit that almost caused a rebellion in Antwerp—was that the camp was too far away from the Colombes stadium. No place could have been picked as a more ideal place to live than the Murat chateau at Roquecourt, and its lone bad feature was not the result of poor judgment on the part of the American committee, but came as a result of the failure of the transportation to live up to the promised speed.

The Roquecourt villa was located about 12 miles from the Colombes stadium, and it was natural, perhaps, that Americans should figure that the trip would not consume more than 30 minutes over good roads. But the drivers of the busses operated on a schedule that was regularly about an hour and sometimes more.

It was mentioned previously that many times the athletes who competed in the late events on the program did not arrive at their camp until the kitchen had closed. This was not the fault of the committee, however. No American had thought of the possibility of having the games started at 3 o'clock and finishing as late as 9.

It had been planned to house the athletes scheduled in early events overnight at the Colombes village, but the accommodations were so poor that another carefully-made plan had to be abandoned through no fault of the committee.

The bouncing and jostling in a bus over 12 miles did not help the athletes and the irregularity of meals was also a handicap, but the athletes knew that the French committee was to blame, primarily, and they didn't grumble.

The American committee, in the past, has had bigger problems to face than the managers of European teams, and the same problems will have to be faced in the future. It is reasonable to believe that in such goods hands as the team was this year that these bigger problems will be met.

The Finns had an ideal camp. They were situated in a quiet village, near Colombes, within easy access of the stadium. The Americans might have had, and would have had a place just as good, if they only had the care of 70 athletes. But when there are more than 300 men and girls to take care of, the task is a tremendous job. There was not a spot closer than Roquecourt where the American committee could find space to house and feed such a small army of athletes.

Another slight defect in the management can be corrected in the future. There should be some way of separating the athletes who have finished competition and those who are still in training. The committee should keep the various units of the team together. The boxers and swimmers should not be housed near the track athletes.

It is only natural that a young athlete who has been training for months should seek a little entertainment after he has finished his competition. He should be allowed to keep the lights on after hours and sing and dance if he wants to. But he should not do his celebrating in the same hall where a less fortunate companion is trying to get some rest for a hard competition on the following day.

These are all only minor grievances, however, and they can be corrected. Under the circumstances the American committee could not have done a better job. They had a big task—and they delivered.

TWIN CITY POLOISTS
SPLIT AT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 25.—With a handicap of one goal the St. Paul and Minneapolis team could not beat the St. Charles Reds here, Saturday, the local team winning, 5 to 4.

The Ft. Snelling Buffs administered a sound drubbing to the St. Charles Canaries, winning 9 to 2.

In the first game the Twin City team was leading 4 to 3 up to the beginning of the last chukkar, but the Reds sprinted and scored two goals in the last chukkar, both by Sifton.

The second game was a walkaway for the St. Paul team. Their riding and headwork was much superior to the Canaries.

The teams were:
St. Charles Reds—J. W. Sifton (1)

C. W. Tupper (2), R. H. Moore (3), W. A. Smith (back).

Twin Cities—T. C. Penny (1), L. D. Berry (2), M. E. Krier (3), Maj. L. K. Eaton (back).

St. Charles Canaries—G. G. Griffin (1), Clifford Hargrave (2), E. J. Bawlf (3), A. Burrows (back).

Robert McDonald alternated with T. J. Bawlf in successive chukkas.

Ft. Snelling Buffs—Lieut. J. P. Evans (1), Lieut. R. MacDonald (2), Lieut. R. A. Carter (3), Capt. Don. F. Pratt (back).

Capt. Schmahl and F. O. Schmahl substituted in different chukkas for Capt. Pratt.

Miss Helen Wills is American tennis champion for another year. In the final match of the annual tournament held at Forest Hills, New York, she defeated Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, who held the championship for six years, by a score of 6-1, 6-3. The photograph shows Mr. Wightman, president of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association, presenting the cup emblematic of the championship to Miss Wills, who has been nicknamed "the girl with the poker face."

MANKATO MUST SHOW
PROOF FOR HURLER

Owatonna, Minn., Aug. 25.—Unless the Mankato club's management offers more conclusive proof that Muecke, pitcher, is a resident of Mankato, than does evidence offered by Waseca, St. James and Blooming Prairie to the contrary, the Blue Sox will have to play three protested games at Mankato during the coming week. This decision was reached at a meeting of the board of directors of the Southern Minnesota Baseball association here last night. The Owatonna club also announced that it would play the league's only postponed game with Austin here on Aug. 31.

Discussion at the session centered around allegations that Mankato's playing of Muecke constitutes a violation of league rules in that the club thus exceeded its allotted outside player limit. Considine, who had been listed as a home player, also came in for some criticism from the other clubs.

The Blooming Prairie club was relieved of a fine assessed by Pres. Quinn after showing that it had secured the consent of five league clubs to play a man under an assumed name. Plans for the championship series between the winners of the first and last halves of the season were left for settlement to the two clubs which will play.
